CHECK MADE GOOD; JUDGMENT WITHHELD

Donald Laughlin, Living North of Falmouth, Arraigned for Issuing Bogus Paper

ACTION IN CIVIL SUITS

Donald Laughlin, living north of Falmouth, was arraigned in Justice Steel's court on a charge of issuing a fraudulent check, and by agreement the check was made good and the judgment withheld in the matter. The check was given to Shuster and Epstein of this city last November for $5. The costs in settlement increased the amount to $18.

In a suit pending on a note by William E. Bowen against Earl Winship, the defendant defaulted and judgment amounting to $135 was entered.

William Knecht, Sr., and William Knecht, Jr., are plaintiffs in a suit filed in Justice Steel's court against Weeks' Fresh Meat and Provision company. The complaint is on an account, demanding judgment for $175. The case will be heard October 21 at 9 a. m.

The complaint on account of Delos Baldrige against Ira Long, demanding $43 judgment, was continued from yesterday until next Friday. The parties reside in Posey township.

HAS ONLY FIGHTING CHANCE

Southport Farmer Seriously Burned Trying to Save Son

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 18—Roy Howell, farmer, burned seriously while attempting to rescue his 14-year-old son, Paul, from the burning silo on their farm near Southport late yesterday, was conceded only "a fighting chance" for life at the hospital where he is confined today. Trapped in the silo, Paul was burned to death. Price Jarvis, who was in the silo packing down ensilage with the Howell boy, escaped with minor burns. Two large barns, the silo, a garage and a chicken house were destroyed in the fire. Estimates of the loss place it at $10,000.

CONVENTION OF TEACHERS ENDS

With Its Business Completed, Seventy-First Annual Meeting Draws to Close Today

STATE CANDIDATES SPEAK

Dr. McCulloch and Jackson Make Political Addresses—New Officers Elected

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 18—With its business completed the seventy-first annual convention of the Indiana State Teachers' Association drew to a close here today.

Addresses by Ed. Jackson, Republican candidate for governor and Dr. Carleton B. McCulloch, Democratic gubernatorial nominee, featured the final day's session. The teachers wound up their business late yesterday with selection of W. P. Dearing, president of Oakland City College, Oakland City, Ind., as president. The selection of Dearing came about after a deadlock developed in the nominating committee, between Miss Martha Whitaker of Richmond, and E. U. Graff, Indianapolis school superintendent.

A resolution introduced providing for replacement of the annual state convention by sectional conventions was defeated.

In an address Dr. Carleton B. McCulloch, Democratic candidate for Governor, said that in his opinion the teachers have an acquired title to their licenses and the benefits thereunder.

He said that he favored laws that would bring into the teaching profession highly trained teachers "and then graduate a more permanent position to those who are proving themselves to be successful in the training of our youth."

"In 1850 and 1851, there met in Indianapolis one of the most learned and deliberate bodies of men ever assembled in Indiana," Dr. McCulloch said. "The members were in session several weeks and when they closed their deliberation they handed up to the voters of Indiana, for acceptance or rejection, one of the best and most progressive constitutions ever submitted to any people for final consideration and approval. That constitution is the constitution of Indiana under which this state is now governed. While the members of that constitutional convention were not elected by reasons of their political affiliations, by far the larger part of the membership belonged to the political party which I have the distinguished honor to represent upon this occasion. In fact so many of the delegations were members of the Democratic party that the present constitution was often referred to as the Democratic constitution."

ONLY ONE WAY TO DEAL WITH THIS GENTLEMAN

Fair "Pied Piper" Makes a Big "Killing," But It Wasn't Rats

Young Woman Who Arrived a Week Ago to Launch Campaign Against Rats, Unloads The Boxes of Poison on Local Druggists, Obtained Publicity Upon Pretext of Going Out and Putting The Bait to Kill The Rodents. Not a Sign of a Rat Visible During The Week.

The feminine "pied piper," Miss Helen Caldwell, of Huntington W. Va., who breezed into Rushville a week ago today, launched a Rat Killing campaign, is now making a "killing" in other places.

The entire game has been surmised as a means of getting free publicity for a rat poison preparation, "unloading" the packages on local druggists, and then pull stakes for another city that has "thousands" of rats that are to be exterminated by the "pied piper."

An investigation this week revealed the fact that the "pied piper" had not placed a single piece of the poison bait, as she was advertised in the publicity stories.

Her plan has been summed up as follows: When first arriving here she visits the health commissioner, and as any physician would agree, rats are very dangerous in spreading diseases. He has no objection to writing a recommendation that rats should be exterminated. This is natural, because any citizen would be glad to have the city freed of rats.

The young woman then goes to the office of the mayor and tells him that the health commissioner wants to get rid of the rats, and that the first thing to do is to declare a proclamation setting aside a week for that purpose.

She agrees to set the bait in all places where she finds evidence that rats are present. She is supposed to make a canvass of the city, stay a week on the job and clean up on all rats. When obtaining publicity, she presented a pamphlet which was from the department of commerce, in which it appeared that she was working for the government. She decided having any connection with a rat poison concern, when asked that question in the newspaper office.

After launching her preliminary arrangements with the health officers and the mayor, and also obtaining first page publicity, she visits the drug stores, tells them of the vast amount of front page publicity on the rat killing plan, and in an easy manner "unloads" the two-bit boxes of rat poison.

She tells the druggists that people will scramble to buy the boxes of poison. One druggist, who had some on hand, was induced to buy an additional supply to "take care of the rush."

She supplies the stores at once from a stock that she carries, which is evidence alone that the business of exterminating the rats is a financial proposition with her.

The "pied piper" is now regarded as a fake. The poison itself is reliable, but the method of getting it before the people is misleading. She stayed here until Tuesday and went to Shelbyville, where the same "campaign" was launched. From Shelbyville she went to some other place which will have a rat "killing."

COUNTY HAS RAISED OVER $6,000 ON FUND

Riley Memorial Hospital Campaign Has Been Dormant for Sometime Due to Death of Chairman

3 TOWNSHIPS GIVE NOTHING

Rush county has raised $6,144.38 in cash and pledges for the Riley Memorial hospital, which was recently dedicated, and no organized effort has been made to carry forward the work locally since the death of T. M. Green, who was the county chairman, last winter.

A report on the amount raised in each township of the county was submitted by Miss Anna Behannon, treasurer of the committee. It shows that no money was ever pledged or contributed in Posey, Center or Richland townships and that the sum of $4,122 was raised in Rushville, including $2,400 pledged by the Kiwanis club and $1,300 by the Rotary club.

Walker was next high with $556.08 and Ripley raised $394.50. Anderson's contribution was $373.85 and Washington's $319.60. The Sunshine club of Raleigh recently added $25 to its gift of $50 made previously. Other townships reporting smaller amounts were: Noble, $188.50; Union, $142.35; Jackson, $25.50; Orange, $22.

The organization for a thorough canvass of Rushville city had about been completed when Mr. Green was incapacitated by illness and never recovered.

SHOWS IMPROVEMENT

Miss Stella Poston, who underwent an operation for the removal of tonsils and adenoids a few days ago, is recovering nicely.

DAVIS WINDS UP WESTERN TOUR

Democratic Nominee for President Finds Managers at St. Louis Elated Over Prospects

APATHY A MYTH, HE SAYS

Closes his Illinois Campaign With Three Speeches in the Foreign Quarters of Chicago

By PAUL R. MALLON
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)
St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 18—John W. Davis wound up his western campaign here today.

With election day just a little more than two weeks off, the Democratic presidential candidate struck this pivotal point of his final tour before starting back east to concentrate his efforts there henceforward.

Davis found his managers here elated over prospects of carrying Missouri. They told him his majority would be safely over 50,000. His speech here tonight will cinch the state, they said.

With the first half of the crusade over, Davis is highly confident of the outcome. "The widely advertised apathy of Democratic voters is a myth," he says. "The straw polls are just what straw polls have always proved to be—a tremendous majority for the head that conducts them."

"The storm of disapproval against the Mellon tax plan was hidden under similar polls conducted by the same Republican forces last summer. Their poll then showed that eight out of every nine persons in the United States were in favor of the Mellon plan, but never was a measure so decisively disapproved."

"Every poll that the Democrats have ever taken always showed 100 per cent in their favor and the division of the present polls merely shows how far the Republicans have fallen below their mark."

The Democratic candidate wound up his Illinois campaign last night with three speeches in the foreign quarter of Chicago. In the Bohemian, Jewish and Polish settlements he laid down his platform of Americanism, paid tribute to Woodrow Wilson, whom he declared had welded the nations of the world closer together than they had ever been before, and pointed to the accomplishments for labor during the eight years of the Wilson administration.

Leaving here tonight, Davis will go to Nashville, where he will rest Sunday and speak Monday night.

PENNY SUPPER IS A SUCCESS

Effort to Cut Down Attendance at Jackson School Fails

Gross proceeds from the penny supper at the Jackson township school building Friday night amounted to $143.76 and about $100 of this amount was clear, which will go to the school and the Rush County Child Welfare association. It is estimated that a crowd of 500 people attended.

A woman called the Daily Republican on the telephone Friday and announced that the penny supper had been postponed, and accepting the statement as the truth, the Daily Republican published it. The announcement created a furor because the supper had not been postponed and those in charge of the affair were very much disturbed because such methods were used to cut down the attendance. Hereafter, persons who wish to make such announcements through the Daily Republican will have to identify themselves before the announcement will be published.

ADVISORY BOARD PLAN USED HERE

Method Adopted by Salvation Army in 1920 to Gain Support in Operation in Rushville

BOARD HEADS CAMPAIGN

Appeal For Funds to Meet Expenses During Next Twelve Months Set for Week of Twenty-Sixth

The Salvation Army campaign for funds, which will be conducted here the week of the twenty-sixth, is in accordance with plans first put into operation in 1920, beginning with the organization of county advisory boards.

A county advisory board was organized here the first year and the Army budget was reached. The board has been continued from year to year and has tried to raise the amount desired for the local corps each spring since that time. The customary time, and now the state headquarters of the Army is asking that Rushville come to the front for the organization that has been continuing its laudable work here, but has received no organized support from the community.

Mavor Walter R. Thomas is at the head of the present campaign and at a meeting of the Advisory board this week, committees were selected and plans outlined for the canvass of the city to raise the budget of $2,000 for the next twelve months.

The raising of the funds each year permits the officers to devote their entire time to the rendering of social service, the giving of relief and the preaching of the gospel to the poor, and the raising of the fund on the budget plan assures the communities that the money will be spent for the purposes for which it is raised.

The promiscuous collection of funds by miscellaneous agencies imitating the Salvation Army, using tambourines and conving so closely the uniform, that they deceive almost everybody except Salvationists, compel the Army to ask that those who wish to relieve suffering and distress through its channels, shall give in answer to these annual appeals. There will then be no possibility of deception or mistake.

The state headquarters desires to place Indiana at the very head of the list in point of service, and the forty corps, such as the one in Rushville, situated as they are in strategic cities throughout the State, are admirably placed to carry out the program.

JURY DISAGREES

Shelbyville, Ind., Oct. 18—Charles Snyder must be retried on a charge of murdering his friend John Osborne. A jury in Shelby circuit court shortly after midnight disagreed and reported to Judge Morrison that it was unable to reach a verdict after nearly fifteen hours deliberation. Osborne was shot and killed at a party at his home in Smithland, May 25. Snyder was arrested after several days search. The jury stood 8 to 4 for conviction, it was reported.

SMALL SCHOOLS COME TO FRONT

Dominate Meeting of Indiana High School Athletic Association This Week

H. B. ALLMAN IS PRESIDENT

Steps Taken to Pave Way for Holding Tournaments in Smaller Towns and Schools

The smaller schools of the state, or the township high schools are now the dominating element in the operation of the Indiana high school athletic association, because of the large number of rural schools that are members of the association.

This was evidenced at the meeting of the board of control in Indianapolis this week, when propositions favorable to the small schools were passed, and the steps taken to pave the way for holding tournaments in the small towns and schools, instead of the larger district centers.

H. B. Allman, city superintendent of the Rushville schools, is president of the state board and presided at the meeting. Each school is entitled to one vote on the propositions, and because of the greater number of smaller schools, the cities were voted down on their propositions.

A proposal was passed providing that there be no distribution of tournament funds on the basis of season tickets sold and that the receipts of the tournaments be divided equally among all schools participating after legitimate expenses had been paid and the tourney center received $200. This division of the receipts opens the way for the tournaments to be held in smaller towns because there will be no financial advantage to the school holding the tournament.

Had this plan been followed here last year, Alquina, one of the teams in the tourney, would have shared equally in the net proceeds, yet the team did not have a single season ticket holder at the tourney.

The rules were also changed to hold regional tourneys under the control of high schools instead of universities.

The Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans Home at Knightstown will become a member of the I. H. S. A. A. through a resolution introduced by R. H. Valentine, principal of the Newcastle high school. The resolution was passed and the Home became a member through the usual procedure.

A proposal that Indiana's championship basketball team will be allowed to play in the state capital.

LITTLE FLATROCK GETS PUBLICITY

Picture of and Article About Unique Rural Church in This Week's Farmers Guide

NO RULE FOR ITS SUCCESS

This week's issue of the Indiana Farmer's Guide, published at Huntington, Ind., carries a picture of Little Flatrock Christian church, which is located a short distance north of New Salem, and a short article about the unusual success of the rural congregation.

The writer quotes from an article written by the Rev. L. E. Brown, former pastor of the Main Street Christian church, for the Centennial pamphlet issued here two years ago, and gives a brief description of the building and congregation; then sums up as follows:

"No one has laid down a rule with which to understand the success of this rural organization for worship. Wise men have devoted much thought to the subject in a general way, and it has been recognized that rural communities need something for the success of their religious institutions. The Flatrock church seems to have this intangible something that has made it succeed, and made its building not only an outstanding picture in the mind of the travelers, but given it an interested and active congregation."

"With the long history back of it and with its nearly a century of religious service and influence, it is only fitting that the church should be housed in a building as beautiful and attractive as it is possible to make."

Next Week at Princess

Three rakes, a married judge and a young man on the verge of delirium tremens forms the unpromising material from which "Dodo" Baxter, the heroine of James Cruze's latest production for Paramount, "The Enemy Sex," is asked to select a husband. The picture comes Monday and Tuesday to the Princess.

Featuring Betty Compson with a strong cast which includes Percy Marmont, Kathlyn Williams, Huntly Gordon and De Witt Jennings, "The Enemy Sex" is a story of New York life as it appears to a young girl from the country. Armed only with wit and beauty which combine to give her strong sex appeal, Dodo Baxter plays such a clever game with a group of men that she puzzles even their worldly-wise minds.

The role of Dodo is particularly well suited to Betty Compson. Percy Marmont is cast as "Garry Lindaberry," who is drinking himself to death. Huntly Gordon appears as "Judge Massingale" and Kathlyn Williams as "Mrs. Massingale." De Witt Jennings is cast as "Harrigan Blood." Sheldon Lewis plays the role of "Sassoon."

Sassoon, Blood and Massingale attend a private dinner given for a group of chorus girls. They discover that Dodo is an entirely different type to the others and each begins to pay her attentions. Sassoon and Blood are interested in her solely because she is a girl who remains unconquered. Massingale however, falls genuinely in love with her. She reciprocates his affection, discovering, too late, that he is married.

Black Smoke Is Unburned Coal

Have you ever stopped to consider the meaning of the Black Smoke that rolls from your chimney? Perhaps you have not realized that this BLACK SMOKE is CARBON and this CARBON is a great heat element in the combustion of coal. A great deal of carbon is lost through the chimney in the form of gases and soot.

To eliminate this needless loss—to get the most from the coal you burn—to make your home a comfortable home—to give you the advantages of the most even and convenient heating at a low cost—GLOBE HEATING STOVES were designed and built.

You should investigate the construction of Globe Heating Stoves before you make a purchase. If time is any proof of the quality, remember they have been sold in this store 20 years.

NOTICE OF ROAD ELECTION

In the matter of the petition for the improvement of a public highway in Anderson Township, Rush County, Indiana, petitioned for by Fred Shehorn, et al.

Fred Shehorn et al having filed their petition with the Board of County Commissioners, praying for the improvement of the highway in Anderson township, Rush County, Indiana, beginning at the northwest corner of Section 24, township 12 north, range 9 east, where the same connects with the free macadam road known as the Joseph Green et al highway, and running thence south on the section line between Section 23 and 24 over and along the highway as now laid out to the south-west corner of Section 24, township 12 north, range 9 east, where the said proposed highway connects with the Roy Toynes et al highway, and said petition containing a request that the question of establishing such road be submitted to a vote of the electors of Anderson Township, said petition was on the 15th day of October 1924, duly submitted to the Board of Commissioners of Rush County, Indiana, and the Board having found that notice had been given of the filing and pendency of said petition as required by law and no remonstrance having been filed thereto, the board thereupon examined said petition and being duly advised in regard thereto found the same to be in due form and sufficient, and thereupon ordered said petition spread of record; the Board being duly advised further found that the bonded indebtedness of Anderson Township, Rush County, Indiana was in excess of two percent but not in excess of four percent of the total assessed valuation of the property in said Anderson Township and that the probable amount of bonds which will be necessary to issue to pay for the construction of said proposed road, together with the bonds already issued and to be issued will not be in excess of four percent of the total assessed valuation of the property of said Anderson Township, and that said matter of the establishment of said road should be submitted to a vote of the electors of said Anderson Township, at the next succeeding general election.

Notice is therefore given that on TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 4, 1924 at the time and place of holding the general election the question of the establishment of said road and, the issuance of bonds, therefore in excess of two percent, but not in excess of four percent of the total assessed valuation of the property of Anderson Township, Rush County, Indiana, if said road shall be finally ordered established, will be voted upon by the legal voters of said Anderson Township, and ballots will be furnished setting forth the question to be voted upon, and the polls opened at the several voting places in said Anderson township for said purpose.

History Makers

When Ezra Meeker, who blazed the Oregon trail seventy-two years ago, rode with a United States army air service pilot from his home to the international air races in Dayton, Ohio, transportation history was being written.It was a marvelous story of achievement—from the ox team days to the period of conquering the air.
It calls to mind the daring trip that Meeker made through the wilderness, the thrilling experiences with marauding Indians and the cholera scurge which he endured.The Meeker movers were joined by others who turned their faces toward the new land and no story of the wild west has more incidents of comedy and tragedy than the now famous journey into the unexplored northwest.Many Rush county people can recall the day when Meeker passed through Rushville, several years ago, traversing the same trail that he did in 1852, with ox team and covered wagon.Where this pioneer battled with mad, Indians and plagues, automobiles now travel with ease, motorists finding paved roads and conveniences on every hand, that civilization in its sweep through the west has brought along. The old National Trail which Meeker traveled in that early day appeared as a white thread as he flew in the air conveyance.The astounding developments that this bare three-quarters of a century has brought makes the blood tingle in the veins of an American citizen and sets his brain in a whirl when he tries to imagine what the future holds in store.

Navy Day Again

On October 27 the third Navy Day will be celebrated throughout the length and breadth of the land. The people will be called upon by proclamation of the president and the governor of the state to display the national colors and dwell in our thoughts on the achievements of that wonderful body of loyal, valiant fightin' men who piloted our soldiers through dangerous, U-boat infested waters without the loss of a single life.The navy won new laurels for America and sustained the traditions of John Paul Jones. It was the United States navy which initiated the convoy system during the late war and demonstrated that transports could be successfully defended against the unexpected attacks of the German submarines. The convoy system was attempted against the advice of the British military experts who said that British merchantmen were safer going it alone than with destroyers accompanying them.The American navy amply justified its existence and any attempt to reduce its strength, in the face of any lack of desires by other nations to disarm at sea, should be frowned upon by all loyal Americans.FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TODAYFrom Daily Republican TUESDAY, OCT. 19, 1909Earl Talbert and family living near from serious injury Sunday night about seven o'clock as he was driving along the public highway, west of that place. Mr. Talbert was leading a horse behind the rig in which he and his family were riding. The animal that was being led made a wild plunge when two motorcyclists came up from the rear. One of the buggy wheels was badly damaged, and put out of commission. The motorcyclists had no lights on their machines.Big preparations are being made for the annual field day exercises which will be held at the Rush coun-

HUNT'S DAILY LETTER

BY HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service WriterWASHINGTON — Folks who know John W. Davis and have business at the White House occasionally get the shock of their lives as they enter the executive offices.At these times they are likely to pinch themselves to see if they are awake, or to rub and blink their eyes to be sure their vision does not befool them.Some fall into a sort of ecstatic trance in the belief that the election and inauguration must already have occurred and that Davis has already taken up the duties of president. For they'll swear it was none but Davis whom they saw entering the president's office or crossing the corridor into Bascom Slemp's sanctum.However, it isn't Davis they see.
He hasn't called at the White House for years. The vision they have beheld is none other than Dick Jarvis, for more than a dozen years a member of the White House secret service staff.DICK, like Davis, is a handsome gent. He's about the same size and build, firm fleshed, ruddy cheeked, alert and vigorous. Within the past two years his hair has whitened rapidly, increasing his resemblance to the Democratic candidate startlingly. Despite Izetta Jewell Brown's glowing tribute to Davis' pudricitude, as a man who might well win the women's vote by his looks alone, Dick probably would outpoint Davis in a masculine beauty contest.Should Davis win, he and Jarvis unquestionably would make a fine White House team.Should the president wish to room about Ince, he might easily arrange it by having Dick sit in at the executive office for him during his absence. Still, the situation might have its handicaps.
For his very resemblance to Davis might make it necessary for Jarvis himself to have a secret service guard for protection!The Hodge - Podge By a Paraphraser of a SoulFashion note says the skirts are getting shorter and shorter. Brevity is the spice of life.They say nobody loves a fat man, but he seems to get a lot of pleasure out of life just the same.We are told that we should vote on election day and a good many people are engaged in the job of telling us how to do it.Some folks never exercise their judgment enough to keep it in training.In the long run, interest in the bank will net you more than interest in a race track bet.If we could get all of the community axes on the grindstone at one time, what a wonderful place this would be?The world drinks no toasts to the fellow who boasts.

(Pittsburg Gazette-Times)Government ownership in Russia did not stop at railroads, but embraced some millions upon millions of acres of land. Once started in the United States, where would it stop?Well, They Have the Offices (Greenville Piedmont)It seems the Republican campaign orators have an acquaintance with returning prosperity not yet shared by the general public.Always Has Alibi Prepared (Detroit Free Press)It is genuinely amusing to hear a Democrat discourse about the lack of harmony in the Republican party.Oh, Are They Playing Mah Jong?

(Detroit News)Another point still unsettled is whether a victorious Chinese General yells "Pung!" or "Chow!"For It—With Reservations (New York Herald and Tribune)LaFollette is all for Government ownership—provided he owns the Government.A T last the Republican campaign drive is concentrated behind one battle cry. The rallying shout in all districts, to all forces, is: "Coolidge or Chaos."Constant repetition and reiteration of that one warning—"Coolidge or Chaos; Coolidge or Chaos"— —is expected to be of more help in lining up all wavering or deserting Republicans than all the speeches and arguments that could possibly be hurled at the voters between now and Nov. 4."Coolidge or Chaos, Coolidge or Chaos"—the very suggestion of horrible things to come should Coolidge fail of election is counted on to cause all cautious and conservative folk to flock, in fear, into the Coolidge camp."Coolidge or Chaos, Coolidge or Chaos"—just that, nothing more; but the same haunting chant, repeated over and over until it works its spell, like the throbbing of the voodoo drum in the hands of tribal medicine men.THE brain responsible for this Coolidge chant, playing on the psychological timidity of the masses, is that of Colonel George Harvey, erstwhile ambassador to Great Britain, now editor of a Washington newspaper and Coolidge's confidential consultant on campaign strategy.
George claims full credit for having made Woodrow Wilson president and later for having brought about his overthrow. Not being a wholly self-effacing individual he would not object to winning credit for having turned the trick in clinching Coolidge's election.TO what extent Chairman Butler and Frank Stearns, or even President Coolidge himself, approves George's attempt to make this a Harveyized campaign, with George in the role of Master Mind, does not appear.
Cal and George go autoing together. George talks and Cal listens.
Then George picks up his pen again and writes more about "Coolidge or Chaos."THE REPORTER'S

The Source of Supply

Some older people were tantalizing a little Rushville girl about her little baby brother. They were insisting that she give him to them.
"If you want a little baby brother," she told them, "you go to Jesus and get one like we did."

Pug Dogs

What has become of the pug dogs that once were the sign of affluence—that graced the hearthstone of many homes—that were a mark of aristocracy?The inquisitive reporter made some inquiries, but he found that most of the pug dogs had died off and that none of their progeny remained.A New York newspaper writer says there are only two pug dogs in New York City. How he knows is beyond comprehension, but if he's right, it's useless to try to locate a pug dog in Rush county.Think what the present generation is missing in not having a pug dog in every home. For the benefit of young people who never had the companionship of a pug dog, a general description of a pug dog might be appropos.A pug dog was just a pug dog—and that's about all that could be said for one. He derived his name from the fact, evidently, that he had a pug nose. Or perhaps pug noses got their name from pug dogs. That's too deep a question to go any further.Although pet dogs, pugs were seldom playful. Hence, the word pugnacious, meaning disposed to fight, and the noun, pugacity meaning an inclination to fight. Hence, also, the sporting term "pug," meaning a prize fighter.Pug dogs always growled more than they barked. They were generally too lazy to bark. They grew fat with age and slept most of the time. Noah Webster called them pet dogs, but he probably never had one or he would have called it by another name.It really isn't fair to libel the pug dog any more when there is none of the breed left to uphold the fair name of jagdom.

to as the Democratic Constitution of Indiana to distinguish it from the Corydon constitution."

"Our American schools keep the home fires of patriotism, liberty and justice brightly burning in every city, village and countryside in our great commonwealth," he continued.

"To this Alter—the American school room—we bring our most costly and most sacred treasures—our children.

"Indiana's more than twenty-thousand teachers and more than three quarters of a million school children constitute her greatest wealth and they offer to the world our sacred pledge that we shall be found ever on the road to peace and prosperity and shall take our place in the lead of the great states that comprise the mighty political giant of the ages—America."

"Education itself is a growth, so is the school system of Indiana under the present state constitution. It may be a slow process, but it has its rewards," Dr. McCulloch continued. "We must remember things of quick growth soon pass away. The mental training acquired by a child is the qualification desired. That which teaches a child how to study, how to use books, how to find what he does not know is worth while. To fill a child full of so-called knowledge without teaching it how to apply that knowledge to the affairs of life reminds me of pouring water into a jug; the jug is full but helpless."

Glorifying education of youth of the land as one of the highest works of man and advocating an active "selling" campaign to induce more boys and girls to attend the high schools and colleges, Ed Jackson, Republican nominee for governor, today addressed the more than 12,000 public school teachers in convention here.

Major Jackson made a deep appeal for the cause of education and under various heads, took up the relation of the people to the school. The address was non-political.

"After all," he said, "the perpetuity of our nation, its institutions, all depends fundamentally upon education and if we are derelict in promoting that, or in giving the opportunity to our people for securing education to aid them as useful citizens, then we have failed to respond to true Americanism."

"One excellent way to reduce school taxes is to increase the return on the investment," he continued. "The way to increase the return on the investment is to have the school touch more people. With $50,000,000 invested, the schools reach, say 1,000,000 people. Make the schools touch 2,000,000 people, and you could add one-fourth of the investment and still be saving money."

"The school should be a magnet, attracting every person in the community. Wherever there is a community in which that is not true, the school is not living up to its community. The greatest difficulty with the school today is that it is not appreciated and made to serve as fully as it should the community in which it is located."

"One thing absolutely essential to a good school system is interested, active parents. They are the folks that make the schools. We need a campaign of education to arouse the parents of America to the fact that

MARCH OF THE BOYS Babes in Toy Land

By VICTOR HEBERT (American) (1859-1924)

This famous director and composer was born in Dublin on February 1, 1859. His grandfather was Samuel Lover, the famous Irish novelist and song writer. At the age of seven young Herbert was sent to Stuttgart as a student of the cello. After some years' study and a tour of Europe, he accepted the position of solo cellist at the Metropolitan Opera in 1886. The Metropolitan Orchestra soon became too small for so talented a musician, and after having been bandmaster of the Twenty-second Regiment Band and conductor of the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra, Mr. Herbert organized in 1904 the Victor Herbert Orchestra, which has had a most successful career. At this time Mr. Herbert continued to compose operas, writing more than twenty-five, including his first grand opera "Natana", produced at the Metropolitan, February 28, 1911, and his later production, "Madeleine" brought out in January, 1914. Mr. Herbert's great fame as a composer of operas has somewhat obscured the fact that he is a gifted cello virtuoso, and when but a young man held the position of first cellist in the Stuttgart Court Orchestra.

Although Mr. Herbert was born in Ireland, he has lived here so long and is so thoroughly American in his activities that he has long been considered as a leading American composer. He has written some twenty-five light operas, among his many compositions, and of these a favorite among children is his "Babes in Toyland." In this fantastical opera, the toys in the toyshop come to life and, as represented here, march with their rhythmic motions.

The march opens with rolling drums and blowing trumpets. Then the bass instruments begin a steady rhythmic figure built on the four tones, so-la-ti-do, repeated over and over again while the woodwinds march theme appears followed again by the first theme. This becomes agitated and once more the march theme returns, this time in dignified slow tempo and played by full orchestra. The march ends with the music dying away in the distance as the toys march away.

FROM THE LAND OF THE SKY-BLUE WATER

By Charles Wakefield Cadman

Charles Wakefield Cadman is a contemporary American composer, one of a group who have sought to building a school of American music through using native folk songs and legends as a basis for their compositions. Cadman has taken a number of American Indian themes and idealized them. "From the Land of the Sky-Blue Water" is one of the most popular of these. It tells of the futile efforts of an Indian lover to woo a captive maid, who is homesick for her own people. When hidden in the forest at dawn he plays his love serenade on the Indian flute or flageolet. The lover's flute is heard in the introduction, trilling his love call. Then he sings the slow sustained melody of the song, almost melancholy in its futility of hope for the return of his love. It is written in the five-tone (or pentatonic) mode of primitive music.

CONVENTION OF TEACHERS ENDS

With Its Business Completed, Seventy-First Annual Meeting Draws to Close Today

STATE CANDIDATES SPEAK
Dr. McCulloch and Jackson Make Political Addresses—New Officers Elected

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 18—With its business completed the seventy-first annual convention of the Indiana State Teachers' Association drew to a close here today.

Addresses by Ed. Jackson, Republican candidate for governor, and Dr. Carleton B. McCulloch Democratic gubernatorial nominee, featured the final day's session.

The teachers wound up their business late yesterday with selection of W. P. Dearing, president of Dakota City College, Oakland City, Ind., as president. The selection of Dearing came about after a deadlock developed in the nominating committee, between Miss Martha Whitaker of Richmond, and E. U. Graff, Indianapolis school superintendent.

A resolution introduced providing for replacement of the annual state convention by sectional conventions was defeated.

In an address Dr. Carleton B.
McCulloch, Democratic candidate for Governor, said that in his opinion the teachers have an acquired title to their licenses and the benefits thereunder.

He said that he favored laws that would bring into the teaching profession highly trained teachers "and then graduate a more permanent position to those who are proving themselves to be successful in the training of our youth."

"In 1850 and 1851, there met in Indianapolis one of the most learned and deliberate bodies of men ever assembled in Indiana," Dr. McCulloch said. "The members were in session several weeks and when they closed their deliberation they handed up to the voters of Indiana, for acceptance or rejection, one of the best and most progressive constitutions ever submitted to any people for final consideration and approval. That constitution is the constitution of Indiana under which this state is now governed. While the members of that constitutional convention were not elected by reasons of their political affiliations, by far the larger part of the membership belonged to the political party which I have the distinguished honor to represent upon this occasion. In fact so many of the delegations were members of Rat Visible During the Week.

The feminine "pied piper," Miss Helen Caldwell, of Huntington W.
Va., who breezed into Rushville a week ago today, launched a Rat Killing campaign, is now making a "killing" in other places.

The entire game has been surmised as a means of getting free publicity for a rat poison preparation, "unloading" the packages on local druggists, and then pull stakes for another city that has "thousands" of rats that are to be exterminated by the "pied piper."

An investigation this week revealed the fact that the "pied piper" had not placed a single piece of the poison bait, as she was advertised in the publicity stories.

Her plan has been summed up as follows: When first arriving here she visits the health commissioner, and as any physician would agree, rats are very dangerous in spreading diseases. He has no objection to writing a recommendation that rats should be exterminated. This is natural, because any citizen would be glad to have the city freed of rats.

The young woman then goes to the office of the mayor and tells him that the health commissioner wants to get rid of the rats, and that the first thing to do is to declare a proclamation setting aside a week for that purpose.

She agrees to set the bait in all places where she finds evidence that rats are present. She is supposed to make a canvass of the city, stay a week on the job and clean up on all rats. When obtaining publicity, she presented a phyllophagous which was from the department of commerce, in which it appeared that she was working for the government. She devoted having any connection with a rat poison concern, when asked that question in the newspaper office.

After launching her preliminary arrangements with the health officers and the mayor, and also obtaining first page publicity, she visits the drug stores, tells them of the vast amount of front page publicity on the rat killing plan, and in an easy manner "unloads" the two-bit boxes of rat poison.

She tells the druggists that people will scramble to buy the boxes of poison. One druggist, who had some on hand, was induced to buy an additional supply to take care of the rush.

She supplies the stores at once from a stock that she carries, which is evidence alone that the business of exterminating the rats is a financial proposition with her.

The "pied piper" is now regarded as a fake. The poison itself is reliable, but the method of getting it before the people is misleading. She stayed here until Tuesday and went to Shelbyville, where the same "campaign" was launched. From Shelby-ville she went to some other place which will have a rat "killing."

COUNTY HAS RAISED OVER $6,000 ON FUND

Riley Memorial Hospital Campaign Has Been Dormant for Sometime Due to Death of Chairman

3 TOWNSHIPS GIVE NOTHING

Rush county has raised $6,144.38 in cash and pledges for the Riley Memorial hospital, which was recently dedicated, and no organized effort has been made to carry forward the work locally since the death of T. M. Green, who was the county chairman, last winter.

A report on the amount raised in each township of the county was submitted by Miss Anna Bohannon, treasurer of the committee. It shows that no money was ever pledged or contributed in Posey, Center or Richland townships and that the sum of $4,122 was raised in Rushville, including $2,400 pledged by the Kiwanis club and $1,300 by the Rotary club.

Walker was next high with $556.08 and Ripley raised $394.50.
Anderson's contribution was $373.85 and Washington's $319.60. The Sunshine club of Raleigh recently added $25 to its gift of $50 made previously. Other townships reporting smaller amounts were: Noble, $188.50; Union, $142.35; Jackson, $25.50; Orange, $22.

The organization for a thorough canvass of Rushville city had about been completed when Mr. Green was incapacitated by illness and never recovered.

SHOWS IMPROVEMENT

Miss Stella Poston, who underwent an operation for the removal of tonsils and adenoids a few days ago, is recovering nicely.

DAVIS WINDS UP WESTERN TOUR

Democratic Nominee for President Finds Managers at St. Louis Elu-ted Over Prospects

APATHY A MYTH, HE SAYS

Closes his Illinois Campaign With Three Speeches in the Foreign Quarters of Chicago

By PAUL R. MALLON
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)
St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 18—John W.
Davis wound up his western campaign here today.

With election day just a little more than two weeks off, the Democratic presidential candidate struck his pivotal point of his final tour before starting back east to concentrate his efforts there henceforward.

Davis found his managers here elated over prospects of carrying Missouri. They told him his majority would be safely over 50,000. His speech here tonight will cinch the state, they said.

With the first half of the crusade over, Davis is highly confident of the outcome.

"The widely advertised apathy of Democratic voters is a myth," he says. "The straw polls are just what straw polls have always proved to be —a tremendous majority for the head that conducts them."

"The storm of disapproval against the Mellon tax plan was hidden under similar polls conducted by the same Republican forces last summer.
Their poll then showed that eight out of every nine persons in the United States were in favor of the Mellon plan, but never was a measure so decisively disapproved."

"Every poll that the Democrats have ever taken always showed 100 per cent in their favor and the division of the present polls merely shows how far the Republicans have fallen below their mark."

The Democratic candidate wound up his Illinois campaign last night with three speeches in the foreign quarter of Chicago. In the Bohemian, Jewish and Polish settlements he laid down his platform of Americanism, paid tribute to Woodrow Wilson, whom he declared had welded the nations of the world closer together than they had ever been before, and pointed to the accomplishments for labor during the eight years of the Wilson administration.

Leaving here tonight, Davis will go to Nashville, where he will rest Sunday and speak Monday night.

PENNY SUPPER IS A SUCCESS

Effort to Cut Down Attendance at Jackson School Fails

Gross proceeds from the penny supper at the Jackson township school building Friday night amounted to $143.76 and about $100 of this amount was clear, which will go to the school and the Rush County Child Welfare association. It is estimated that a crowd of 500 people attended.

A woman called the Daily Republican on the telephone Friday and announced that the penny supper had been postponed, and accepting the statement as the truth, the Daily Republican published it. The announcement created a furor because the supper had not been postponed and those in charge of the affair were very much disturbed because such methods were used to cut down the attendance. Hereafter, persons who wish to make such announcements through the Daily Republican will have to identify themselves before the announcement will be published.

ADVISORY BOARD PLAN USED HERE

Method Adopted by Salvation Army in 1920 to Gain Support in Operation in Rushville

BOARD HEADS CAMPAIGN

Appeal For Funds to Meet Expenses During Next Twelve Months Set for Week of Twenty-Sixth

The Salvation Army campaign for funds, which will be conducted here the week of the twenty-sixth, is in accordance with plans first put into operation in 1920, beginning with the organization of county advisory boards.

A county advisory board was organized here the first year and the Army budget was reached. The board has been continued from year to year and has tried to raise the amount desired for the local corps each spring since that time.

No campaign was put on last May,
the customary time, and now the state headquarters of the Army is asking that Rushville come to the front for the organization that has been continuing its laudable work here, but has received no organized support from the community.

Mayor Walter R. Thomas is at the head of the present campaign and at a meeting of the Advisory board this week, committees were selected and plans outlined for the canvass of the city to raise the budget of $2,000 for the next twelve months.

The raising of the funds each year permits the officers to devote their entire time to the rendering of social service, the giving of relief and the preaching of the gospel to the poor, and the raising of the fund on the budget plan assures the communities that the money will be spent for the purposes for which it is raised.

The promiscuous collection of funds by miscellaneous agencies imitating the Salvation Army, using tambores and conyng so closely the uniform, that they deceive almost everybody except Salvationists, compels the Army to ask that those who wish to relieve suffering and distress through its channels, shall give in answer to these annual appeals. There will then be no possibility of deception or mistake.

The state headquarters desires to place Indiana at the very head of the list in point of service, and the forty corps, such as the one in Rushville, situated as they are in strategic cities throughout the State, are admirably placed to carry out the program.

JURY DISAGREES

Shelbyville, Ind., Oct. 18—Charles Swider must be retried on a charge of murdering his friend John Osborne. A jury in Shelby circuit court shortly after midnight disagreed and reported to Judge Morrison that it was unable to reach a verdict after nearly fifteen hours deliberation. Osborne was shot and killed at a party at his home in Smithland, May 25.
Swider was arrested after several days search. The jury stood 8 to 4 for conviction, it was reported.

SMALL SCHOOLS COME TO FRONT

Dominate Meeting of Indiana High School Athletic Association This Week

H. B. ALLMAN IS PRESIDENT

Steps Taken to Pave Way for Holding Tournaments in Smaller Towns and Schools

The smaller schools of the state, or the township high schools are now the dominating element in the operation of the Indiana high school athletic association, because of the large number of rural schools that are members of the association.

This was evidenced at the meeting of the board of control in Indianapolis this week, when propositions favorable to the small schools were passed, and the steps taken to pave the way for holding tournaments in the small towns and schools, instead of the larger district centers.

H. B. Allman, city superintendent of the Rushville schools, is president of the state board and presided at the meeting. Each school is entitled to one vote on the propositions, and because of the greater number of smaller schools, the cities were voted down on their propositions.

A proposal was passed providing that there be no distribution of tournament funds on the basis of season tickets sold and that the receipts of the tournaments be divided equally among all schools participating after legitimate expenses had been paid and the tourney center received $200.
This division of the receipts opens the way for the tournaments to be held in smaller towns because there will be no financial advantage to the school holding the tournament.

Had this plan been followed here last year, Alquina, one of the teams in the tourney, would have shared equally in the net proceeds, yet the team did not have a single season ticket holder at the tourney.

The rules were also changed to hold regional tourneys under the control of high schools instead of universities.

The Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans Home at Knightstown will become a member of the I. H. S. A.
A. through a resolution introduced by R. H. Valentine, principal of the Newcastle high school. The resolution was passed and the Home can become a member through the usual procedure.

A proposal that Indiana's championship basketball team will be allocated in this city.

LITTLE FLATROCK GETS PUBLICITY

Picture of and Article About Unique Rural Church in This Week's Farmers Guide

NO RULE FOR ITS SUCCESS

This week's issue of the Indiana Farmer's Guide, published at Huntington, Ind., carries a picture of Little Flatrock Christian church, which is located a short distance north of New Salem, and a short article about the unusual success of the rural congregation.

The writer quotes from an article written by the Rev. L. E. Brown, former pastor of the Main Street Christian church, for the Centennial phyllophagous issued here two years ago, and gives a brief description of the building and congregation; then sums up as follows:

"No one has laid down a rule with which to understand the success of this rural organization for worship.
Wise men have devoted much thought to the subject in a general way, and it has been recognized that rural communities need something for the success of their religious institutions.
The Flatrock church seems to have this intangible something that has made it succeed, and made its building not only an outstanding picture in the mind of the travelers, but given it an interested and active congregation."

"With the long history back of it and with its nearly a century of religious service and influence, it is only fitting that the church should be housed in a building as beautiful and attractive as it is possible to make."

Next Week at Princess

Three rakes, a married judge and a young man on the verge of delirium tremens forms the unpromising material from which "Dodo" Baxter, the heroine of James Cruze' latest production for Paramount, "The Enemy Sex," is asked to select a husband. The picture comes Monday and Tuesday to the Princess.

Featuring Betty Compson with a strong cast which includes Percy Marmont, Kathryn Williams, Huntly Gordon and De Witt Jennings, "The Enemy Sex" is a story of New York life as it appears to a young girl from the country. Armed only with wit and beauty which combine to give her strong sex appeal, Dodo Baxter plays such a clever game with a group of men that she puzzles even their worldly-wise minds.

The role of Dodo is particularly well suited to Betty Compson. Percy Marmont is cast as "Garry Lindaberry," who is drinking himself to death. Huntly Gordon appears as "Judge Massingale" and Kathryn Williams as "Mrs. Massingale." De Witt Jennings is cast as "Harrigan Blood." Sheldon Lewis plays the role of "Sasseon."

Sasseon, Blood and Massingale attend a private dinner given for a group of chorus girls. They discover that Dodo is an entirely different type to the others and each begins to pay her attentions. Sasseon and Blood are interested in her solely because she is a girl who remains unconquered. Massingale however, falls genuinely in love with her. She reciprocates his affection, discovering, too late, that he is married.

NOTICE OF ROAD ELECTION

In the matter of the petition for the improvement of a public highway in Anderson Township, Rush County, Indiana, petitioned for by Fred Shehorn, et al.

Fred Shehorn et al. having filed their petition with the Board of County Commissioners, praying for the improvement of the highway in Anderson township, Rush County, Indiana, beginning at the northwest corner of Section 24, township 12 north, range 9 east, where the same connects with the free macadam road known as the Joseph Green et al highway, and running thence south on the section line between Section 23 and 24 over and along the highway as now laid out to the south-west corner of Section 24, township 12 north, range 9 east, where the said proposed highway connects with the Roy Toynes et al highway, and said petition containing a request that the question of establishing such road be submitted to a vote of the electors of Anderson Township, said petition was on the 15th day of October 1924, duly submitted to the Board of Commissioners of Rush County, Indiana, and the Board having found that notice had been given of the filing and pendency of said petition as required by law and no remonstrance having been filed thereto, the board thereupon examined said petition and being duly advised in regard thereto found the same to be in due form and sufficient, and thereupon ordered said petition spread of record; the Board being duly advised further found that the bonded indebtedness of Anderson Township, Rush County, Indiana was in excess of two percent but not in excess of four percent of the total assessed valuation of the property in said Anderson Township and that the probable amount of bonds which will be necessary to issue to pay for the construction of said proposed road, together with the bonds already issued and to be issued will not be in excess of four percent of the total assessed valuation of the property of said Anderson Township, and that said matter of the establishment of said road should be submitted to a vote of the electors of said Anderson Township, at the next succeeding general election.

Notice is therefore given that on TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 4, 1924 at the time and place of holding the general election the question of the establishment of said road and the issuance of bonds, therefore in excess of two percent, but not in excess of four percent of the total assessed valuation of the property of Anderson Township, Rush County, Indiana, if said road shall be finally ordered established, will be voted upon by the legal voters of said Anderson Township, and ballots will be furnished setting forth the question to be voted upon, and the polls opened at the several voting places in said Anderson township for said purpose.

Black Smoke Is Unburned Coal

Have you ever stopped to consider the meaning of the Black Smoke that rolls from your chimney? Perhaps you have not realized that this BLACK SMOKE is CARBON and this CARBON is a great heat element in the combustion of coal. A great deal of carbon is lost through the chimney in the form of gases and soot.

To eliminate this needless loss—to get the most from the coal you burn—to make your home a comfortable home—to give you the advantages of the most even and convenient heating at a low cost—GLOBE HEATING STOVES were designed and built.

You should investigate the construction of Globe Heating Stoves before you make a purchase. If time is any proof of the quality, remember they have been sold in this store 20 years.

History Makers

When Ezra Meeker, who blazed the Oregon trail seventy-two years ago, rode with a United States army service pilot from his home to the international air races in Dayton, Ohio, transportation history was being written.

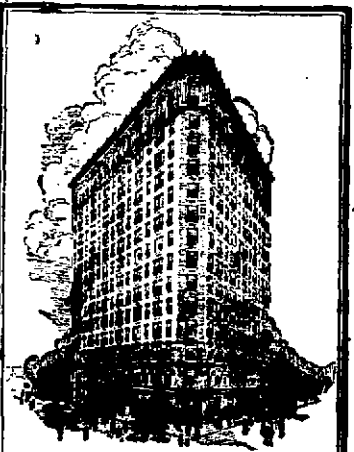

It was a marvelous story of achievement—from the ox team days to the period of conquering the air. It calls to mind the daring trip that Meeker made through the wilderness, the thrilling experiences with marauding Indians and the cholera scourge which he endured.

The Meeker movers were joined by others who turned their faces toward the new land and no story of the wild west has more incidents of comedy and tragedy than the now famous journey into the unexplored northwest.

Many Rush county people can recall the day when Meeker passed through Rushville, several years ago, traversing the same trail that he did in 1852, with ox team and covered wagon.

Where this pioneer battled with mud, Indians and plagues, automobiles now travel with ease, motorists finding paved roads and conveniences on every hand, that civilization in its sweep through the west has brought along. The old National Trail which Meeker traveled in that early day appeared as a white thread as he flew in the air conveyance.

The astounding developments that this bare three-quarters of a century has brought makes the blood tingle in the veins of an American citizen and sets his brain in a whirl when he tries to imagine what the future holds in store.

Navy Day Again

On October 27 the third Navy Day will be celebrated throughout the length and breadth of the land. The people will be called upon by proclamation of the president and the governor of the state to display the national colors and dwell in our thoughts on the achievements of that wonderful body of loyal, valiant fighting men who piloted our soldiers through dangerous, U-boat infested waters without the loss of a single life.

The navy won new laurels for America and sustained the traditions of John Paul Jones. It was the United States navy which initiated the convoy system during the late war and demonstrated that transports could be successfully defended against the unexpected attacks of the German submarines. The convoy system was attempted against the advice of the British military experts who said that British merchantmen were safer going it alone than with destroyers accompanying them.

The American navy amply justified its existence and any attempt to reduce its strength, in the face of any lack of desires by other nations to disarm at sea, should be frowned upon by all loyal Americans.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TODAY

From Daily Republican
TUESDAY, OCT. 19, 1909

Earl Talbert and family living near Morristown, had a narrow escape from serious injury Sunday night about seven o'clock as he was driving along the public highway, west of that place. Mr. Talbert was leading a horse behind the rig in which he and his family were riding. The animal that was being led made a wild plunge when two motorecyclists came up from the rear. One of the buggy wheels was badly damaged, and put out of commission. The motorecyclists had no lights on their machines.

Big preparations are being made for the annual field day exercises which will be held at the Rush county fair grounds all day Saturday October 30.

HUNT'S DAILY LETTER

BY HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON — Folks who know John W. Davis and have business at the White House occasionally get the shock of their lives as they enter the executive office.

At these times they are likely to pinch themselves to see if they are awake, or to rub and blink their eyes to be sure their vision does not fool them.

Some fall into a sort of ecstatic trance in the belief that the election and inauguration must already have occurred and that Davis has already taken up the duties of president. For they'll swear it was none but Davis whom they saw entering the president's office or crossing the corridor into Bascom Sleep's sanctum.

However, it isn't Davis they see. He hasn't called at the White House for years. The vision they have beheld is none other than Dick Jervis, for more than a dozen years a member of the White House secret service staff.

DICK, like Davis, is a handsome gent. He's about the same size and build, firm fleshed, ruddy checked, alert and vigorous. Within the past two years his hair has whitened rapidly, increasing his resemblance to the Democratic candidate startlingly. Despite Isatta Jewell Brown's glowing tribute to Davis' politeness, as a man who might well win the women's vote by his looks alone, Dick probably would outpoint Davis in a masculine beauty contest.

Should Davis win, he and Jervis unquestionably would make a fine White House team.

Should the president wish to roam about incog, he might easily arrange it by having Dick sit in at the executive office for him during his absence. Still, the situation might have its handicaps. For his very resemblance to Davis might make it necessary for Jervis himself to have a secret service guard for protection!

At last the Republican campaign drive is concentrated behind one battle cry. The rallying about in all districts, to all forces, is: "Coolidge or Chaos."

Constant repetition and reiteration of that one warning—"Coolidge or Chaos, Coolidge or Chaos"—is expected to be of more help in lining up wavering or desecing Republicans than all the speeches and arguments that could possibly be hurled at the voters between now and Nov. 4.

"Coolidge or Chaos, Coolidge or Chaos"—the very suggestion of horrible things to come should Coolidge fail of election is counted on to cause all cautious and conservative folk to flock, in fear, into the Coolidge camp.

"Coolidge or Chaos, Coolidge or Chaos"—just that, nothing more; but the same haunting chant, repeated over and over until it works its spell, like the throbbing of the voodoo drum in the hands of tribal medicine men.

Some older people were tantalizing a little Rushville girl about her little baby brother. They were insisting that she give him to them.

Pug Dogs

What has become of the pug dogs that once were the sign of affluence—that graced the hearthstone of many homes—that were a mark of aristocracy?

The inquisitive reporter made some inquiries, but he found that most of the pug dogs had died off and that none of their progeny remained.

A New York newspaper writer says there are only two pug dogs in New York City. How he knows is beyond comprehension, but if he's right, it's useless to try to locate a pug dog in Rush county.

Think what the present generation is missing in not having a pug dog in every home. For the benefit of young people who never had the companionship of a pug dog, a general description of a pug dog might be apropos.

A pug dog was just a pug dog—and that's about all that could be said for one. He derived his name from the fact, evidently, that he had a pug nose. Or perhaps pug noses got their name from pug dogs. That's too deep a question to go any further.

Although pet dogs, pugs were seldom playful. Hence, the word pugacious, meaning disposed to fight, and the noun, pugacity meaning an inclination to fight. Hence, also, the sporting term "pug," meaning a prize fighter.

Pug dogs always growled more than they barked. They were generally too lazy to bark. They grew fat with age and slept most of the time. Noah Webster called them pet dogs, but he probably never had one or he would have called it by another name.

It really isn't fair to libel the pug dog any more when there is none of the breed left to uphold the fair name of jngdom.

I suffered in this way from the time I was a young girl, and all the doctors said was 'operation.' JIMMIE PREDICTS

Coach Hyatt of Arlington High School Can't See Anything in the Way to Stop Him

FIRST GAMES NEXT WEEK

Prospects for the best team in the history of Arlington is the way that Jimmy Hyatt, the coach, feels about the approaching basketball season. Arlington lost two from last year's team, but they have left a world of material which is showing up well in practice. The team has Price, J. Readle, Stanley and E. Kemple left from the regulars and with Bundy, Woods, Long, Kennedy, McFarridge, Ritter, Beckner, Williams, Brown and M. Kemple of the second string, there is no wonder why Jimmie is jubilant.

Arlington opens the season next Friday with Center and from then on until the tourney time, basketball will be the main thing in Posey township. The following schedule has been announced by the coach:

Games With Outsiders Compose Largest Part of Indiana Grid Menu Today

NOTRE DAME PUT TO TEST

Indiana Also Faces State Opposition in Chicago—Purdue Plays Northwestern

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 18—Games with outsiders composed the larger portion of the Hoosier varsity grid menu today. In most of the cases, the Indiana squads were up against their equals from the foreign fields and were not overconfident of victory.

The schedule for today: Notre Dame against Army in New York City.

Indiana against Chicago in Chicago. Purdue against Northwestern in Evanston.

Earlham against Defiance at Richmond.

Wabash against Hanover in Crawfordsville.

DePauw against Franklin in Greencastle.

Rose Poly against Evansville college in Evansville.

The Notre Dame team left Thursday for New York, N. Y., to prepare for its clash with the Army at the Polo Grounds in New York. This is one of the biggest games on the national card and Coach Rockne has been working his men industriously in preparation for it. Irish rooters were a little worried after the game with Wabash last Saturday despite the decisiveness of the Irish victory.

In that game, the Notre Dame line appeared ragged and the offensive and defensive did not show the old-time precision. Feeling these weaknesses as much as the fans, Coach Rockne gave the Irish hard and intensive drilling all during the week. He has put them through the tactics of shadow scrimmage, rhythm and timing of the shift.

Although the Army team is heavy the Irish are faster. Notre Dame also has a record of seven victories over the Army in the last ten years.

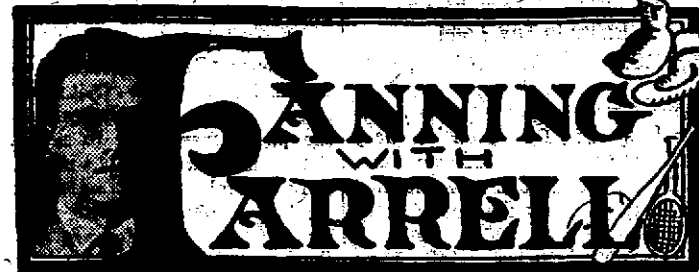

Coach Ingram was not at all satisfied with the showing of Indiana against Louisiana last week and has been taking through scrimmage drills until late every night with the freshmen. He feels that Chicago is a harder team to tackle than the one from the Pelican state. Captain Joe Sloate, of the Crimson squad was expected to make a good showing in place kicking. Fisher, heavy-weight wrestler and tackle, has recovered from a sprained ankle and is expected to prove valuable in crashing into the Maroons.

According to Purdue scouts, the Northwestern aggregation is the strongest that has been assembled at that school in a decade and more powerful than the Ohio State eleven from which the Boiler Makers suffered defeat two weeks ago. However, the quality of the boiler maker squad has been improved. All the Purdue regulars, except Pillman, end, and Don Monroe, fullback, are in good condition. These two are not fully recovered from injuries. "Bo" Worth was to take Monroe's place and Houston, Pillman's. Worth showed improvement in line plunging in the Rose-Poly game last week.

On the whole, the Purdue team is one of the best that the school has turned out for some time and has improved since during the two weeks.

Butler was at home to stem the invasion of "Bo" McMillan's husky squad from Ceneary. The team has been defeated once in the last two years and is determined not to take very much off the Bull Dogs.

U. S. Holds Big Advantage

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)
New York, Oct. 18—Contrary to general expectations, the Australian Davis Cup players announced before sailing for home that another tennis team would be sent out next year for the cup.

In striving against almost impossible odds to win back the classic tennis trophy, the Australians are showing a capacity for punishment and a perseverance almost as great as that of Sir Thomas Lipton, who has spent more than a million dollars trying to win a yacht race. The sportsmanship of the two is as admirable as it is persistent.

Perhaps the Australians have a hunch that the fine little tennis row between Tilden and the association and the ambition of the champion to knock the movies and the stage for a row of service aces will remove Tilden from the American defending team next season.

The international team tennis situation is very closely related to the existing condition in the heavyweight fighting class. Jack Dempsey looks to be due for a reign as the champion until he wears out and the United States seems to be sure of world domination in tennis until Tilden quits and Billy Johnson wears out.

As far as Australia is concerned, however, this outlook is not as promising as it might seem. While Tilden and Johnston are wearing out, the lamp-light as a means of putting his men into shape. He has worked them until late in the evening in tackling practice and defensive scrimmage against the freshmen.

Next to beating Butler the greatest ambition in the life of the Franklin team is to walk over DePauw and the team was in Greencastle today. DePauw rooters with most of the injured men back on the Tiger team expect a victory, on the other hand, by a narrow margin.

With "somebody's own size" to "pick on" Rose Poly today Coach Clark's men expected to make a good showing at Evansville against Evansville College. Bob Hall, star tackle of the Engineers was back and was expected to do good work in raising the teams winning average.

Australian stars will be suffering the same effects of time and competition and there are no players in Australia coming along who can be compared with a flock of youngsters that are developing in the United States.

Although there is no remedy for it, the circumstances which force challenging nations to spend thousands of dollars, travel hundreds of miles and spend months of time on the job give the United States a big advantage in defending the cup, and keeping it in this country.

At one time, not so many years ago, the United States was in the position of a challenger, and had to spend just as much money, time and labor as other nations are doing now. So it is fair for all in the long run perhaps.

When you come to think of it, foreigners are not wrong when they complain that the United States depends upon the element of luck to retain dominance in most of the fields of international sport. What they regard as luck is the convenience of a lot of natural advantages in the defense of the international polo cup, the yacht cup, the Davis tennis cup and other international trophies.

It is claimed in London and Paris that if the United States had to defend its major championship on foreign soils and assume the same disadvantages of climate and general conditions in a strange land, that Uncle Sam wouldn't be such a wow. That undoubtedly is true.

Will G. Newlin will leave this week for Miami, Fla.

STAGGMEN FACE
INDIANA TODAY

Almost New Line-up Will Appear for Indiana in Grid Game Against Chicago University

40 MEN MAKE THE TRIP

Special Train of Several Hundred Students and 90 Piece Band Goes From This State

Bloomington, Ind., Oct. 18—A squad of forty Indiana university football men, groomed to the topmost peak of physical perfection and smarting from the defeat by Louisiana last Saturday are in Chicago where they will battle the University of Chicago eleven on Stag Field this afternoon in the initial Conference game for each team.

An almost entirely different lineup will start against the Stagmen than faced the Pelicans last Saturday. This is the result of a strenuous week's practice, which has included scrimmage every day. Springer and Ninness, who were slightly injured in last Saturday's game have been replaced by two of the three Fisher brothers. Walter Fisher who likely will start the game at right guard is playing his first year of varsity football and is one of the huskiest of the Crimson candidates for forward wall positions, weighing over 200 pounds. George Fisher, veteran of last season's gridiron campaign under Navy Bill Ingram, has been pronounced physically fit by trainer Ferguson. Bishop, another sophomore lineman weighing near the 200 mark, likely will fill the other tackle berth.

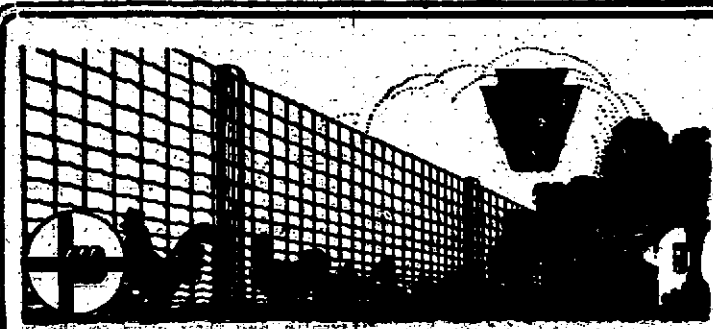

Woodward and Nessel have been filling the two wing positions in the daily scrimmages this last week, replacing Cushna and Sibley. Woodward is a letter man from last year and Nessel is playing his first year of varsity ball. Alward and Prucha, another pair of fast and experienced ends, also are being groomed for the Maroon tilt.

A special train bearing several hundred students and the 90 piece Indiana band left Bloomington at midnight last night and arrived in the Windy City early this morning. A parade was will be formed after the arrival of special cars from Indianapolis and other neighboring cities, carrying Indiana alumni.

The Reynolds Clubhouse, located across 57th street from Stag Field, has been secured as headquarters for the Hoosiers during their stay in Chicago. Free checking facilities for both men and women will be provided there. Dancing and light refreshments are planned as part of the program at an "Open House" at the club immediately after the game.

"Our American schools keep the home fires of patriotism, liberty and justice brightly burning in every city, village and countryside in our great commonwealth," he continued.

"To this Alter—the American school room—we bring our most costly and most sacred treasures—our children.

"Indiana's more than twenty-thousand teachers and more than three quarters of a million school children constitute her greatest wealth and they offer to the world our sacred pledge that we shall be found ever on the road to peace and prosperity and shall take our place in the lead of the great states that comprise the mighty political giant of the ages—America."

"Education itself is a growth, so is the school system of Indiana under the present state constitution. It may be a slow process, but it has its rewards, Dr. McCulloch continued. "We must remember things of quick growth soon pass away. The mental training acquired by a child is the qualification desired. That which teaches a child how to study, how to use books, how to find what he does not know is worth while. To fill a child full of so-called knowledge without teaching it how to apply that knowledge to the affairs of life reminds me of pouring water into a jug; the jug is full but helpless."

Glorying education of youth of the land as one of the highest works of man and advocating an active "selling" campaign to induce more boys and girls to attend the high schools and colleges, Ed Jackson, Republican nominee for governor, today addressed the more than 12,000 public school teachers in convention here.

Major Jackson made a deep appeal for the cause of education and under various heads, took up the relation of the people to the school. The address was non-political.

"After all," he said, "the perpetuity of our nation, its institutions, all depends fundamentally upon education and if we are derelict in promoting that, or in giving the opportunity to our people for securing education to aid them as useful citizens, then we have failed to respond to true Americanism."

"One excellent way to reduce school taxes is to increase the return on the investment," he continued. "The way to increase the return on the investment is to have the school touch more people. With $50,000,000 invested, the schools reach, say 1,000,000 people. Make the schools touch 2,000,000 people, and you could add one-fourth of the investment and still be saving money."

"The school should be a magnet, attracting every person in the community. Wherever there is a community in which that is not true, the school is not living up to its community. The greatest difficulty with the school today is that it is not appreciated and made to serve as fully as it should the community in which it is located."

"One thing absolutely essential to a good school system is interested, active parents. They are the folks that make the schools. We need a campaign of education to arouse the parents of America to the fact that

Dr. Alfred Lawrence Hall-Quest, dean of the University of Pittsburgh, has divorced his wife so she might marry her "perfect love." The other man, according to dispatches, is Fred W. Hart, of Cincinnati, whose wife obtained a divorce about the same time Dr. Hall-Quest received his.

the schools are their property; that they are in their care and keeping; and that they need their everyday attention. I hope there will come out of this meeting a group of men and women on fire to go back and preach this gospel."

HIGH SCHOOL REFLECTOR

MARCH OF THE BOYS Babes in Toy Land

By VICTOR HEBERT (American) (1859-1924)

This famous director and composer was born in Dublin on February 1, 1859. His grandfather was Samuel Lover, the famous Irish novelist and song writer. At the age of seven young Herbert was sent to Stuttgart as a student of the cello. After some years' study and a tour of Europe, he accepted the position of solo cellist at the Metropolitan Opera in 1886. The Metropolitan Orchestra soon became too small for so talented a musician, and after having been bandmaster of the Twenty-second Regiment Band and conductor of the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra, Mr. Herbert organized in 1904 the Victor Herbert Orchestra, which has had a most successful career. All this time Mr. Herbert continued to compose operas, writing more than twenty-five, including his first grand opera "Nations," produced at the Metropolitan, February 28, 1911, and his later production, "Madeleine," brought out in January, 1914. Mr. Herbert's great fame as a composer of operas has somewhat obscured the fact that he is a gifted cello virtuoso, and when but a young man held the position of first cellist in the Stuttgart Court Orchestra.

Although Mr. Herbert was born in Ireland, he has lived here so long and is so thoroughly American in his activities that he has long been considered as a leading American composer. He has written some twenty-five light operas, among his many compositions, and of these a favorite among children is his "Babes in Toyland." In this fantastical opera, the toys in the toyshop come to life and, as represented here, march with their rhythmic motions.

The march opens with rolling drums and blowing trumpets. Then the bass instruments begin a steady rhythmic figure built on the four tones, so-la-ti-do, repeated over and over again while the woodwinds march theme appears followed again by the first theme. This becomes agitated and once more the march theme returns, this time in dignified slow tempo and played by full orchestra. The march ends with the music dying away in the distance as the toys march away.

By Charles Wakefield Cadman Charles Wakefield Cadman is a contemporary American composer, one of a group who have sought to building a school of American music through using native folk songs and legends as a basis for their compositions. Cadman has taken a number of American Indian themes and idealized them. "From the Land of the Sky-Blue Water" is one of the most popular of these. It tells of the futile efforts of an Indian lover to woo a captive maid, who is homesick for her own people. When hidden in the forest at dawn he plays his love serenade on the Indian flute or flageolet. The lover's flute is heard in the introduction, trilling his love call. Then he sings the slow sustained melody of the song, almost melancholy in its futility of hope for the return of his love. It is written in the five-tone (or pentatonic) mode of primitive music.
